WHAT PREACHERS SAID ON SALOONS

RESUME OF ADDRESSES BY PASTORS LAST NIGHT.

"BUSTING BOOZE BOOSTS BUSINESS"

Slogan of Idaho Governor Who Quoted Figures of His Stores to Prove It in Campaign.

The pastors of the five Protestant churches in Maryville spoke on the saloon problem and the local option issue in their various pulpits last night. Their addresses follow.

"Found Wanting," Says Miller.

"Weighed and Wanting" was the subject of the sermon against the saloon by the Rev. C. Emerson Miller, pastor of the Christian church. The speaker showed that the liquor traffic had been found wanting from three points of view, the economic, the physical and the moral.

"We hear a great deal about the saloon being needed because of its revenue," said Mr. Miller. "So let us consider that first. The booze bill of the United States annually is $2,200,000,000. The cost of the judicial and criminal system of this country is $1,200,000. Surely one half or $600,000 of this costs may be attributed to the liquor traffic.

"That makes liquor cost $2,800,000,000 yearly. Now what do we get from it. The most liberal estimate of the total revenue from all sources from the booze business is $400,000,000. That makes a deficit of $2,400,000,000. Do you know of any other business that could be run on an annual loss of 600 per cent.

"Russia bank deposits have increased 147 per cent since prohibition. She spent $750,000 by government appropriation previously on temperance society education. All the great industries have weighed the saloon and found it wanting."

The speaker gave the reason of the great life insurance companies for avoiding drinking men as a proof that liquor had been found wanting physiologically. Statistics of decrease of crime showed liquor's lack in the moral scale.

Take the "Ill" From Maryville.

Mr. Case had as his theme "The A B C of Civic Preparedness" at the First Presbyterian church.

After attention was called to the fact that the best defense this country could build up was that of a sober law abiding, peace loving people, the speaker launched into the opportunity before this community to make its contribution to that end.

The first and great foe in the ranks of the community was the legalized saloon and the community's first duty was to abolish the same. The second that should follow hard after it was to build up an institution that would serve as a community house, particularly for our young men. Our attitude as churches has been too largely destructive and too slightly constructive.

The C or conservation of the community's highest interest would then be the natural and logical outcome of the policy of abolishment followed hard up by that of building up a community social center, with competent

WAS ONE POINT WORSE

DEFEAT SATURDAY NIGHT OF NORMALS BY SPRINGFIELD 41-26.

Score Friday Was 41-27, With Vandersloot Starring for Maryville—Springfield's Captain Out.

"Springfield normals 41, Maryville 26." Yes, that's the score Saturday night also, only one point differing from the 41-27 defeat of the night before. The local team got back last night, none the worse physically for the three straight conference letdowns which the Ozarkers inflicted.

Vandersloot did the star playing for Maryville. In the first half he made four perfect free throws and one field goal. In the second period he raised his number of free throws to seven and got two field goals.

Danenhour Out of Game.

George Danenhour, captain and guard of the Springfield normals, was out of the game on account of an injury to his foot, sustained while scuffling in the gym. His place was effectively filled by Robbins, who played a star game at guard, preventing the visitors from scoring time after time.

The line-ups and scoring were as follows:

The Maryville team scored 11 of their 27 points on free throws, Vandersloot garnering that many baskets out of 19 attempts.

Maryville—Vandersloot, forward, 17; Lollis, forward, 4; Scarlett, center, 4; H. Scott, guard, 0; W. Scott, guard, 2; Garard, guard, 0.

Of the Game Friday Night.

The game was fast and much cleaner than on the preceding night, fewer fouls being called. Coach Palfreyman of Maryville refereed the game. In the game of Friday night, which also was won by the local boys, Physical Director Hampton officiated.

The line-ups and the points scored by each man were as follows:

Maryville—Vandersloot, forward, 12; Lollis, forward, 4; W. Scott, guard, 2; H. Scott, guard, 4; Scarlett, center, 4.

Charles Perrin Leaves.

Charles Perrin of Chicago, who has been visiting his mother the last few days left this morning for Kansas City and other points, where he will transact business before returning home.

Fair by Women of Clyde Church.

The women of the Clyde church will have a fair tonight, tomorrow night and Wednesday night. A musical program will be given by the Clyde College orchestra, with vocal solos by Dr. Riley and Ralph Felix, each night.

NO WILSON CHANCE

PRESIDENT CAN ARRANGE NO MORE STOPS ON TRIP.

INVITATION WAS WIRED

Senator Reed and Secretary Tumulty Answer Maryville Commercial Club With Regrets.

Maryville's chance is gone for seeing President Woodrow Wilson without going to Kansas City or Des Moines. A telegram of invitation for a stop here was wired to Senator James A. Reed and Joseph P. Tumulty, private secretary to the president. Their answers are self-explanatory.

Maryville Commercial Club:

Conferred with president's secretary. President's itinerary does not include St. Joseph. Impossible to arrange meeting in Maryville. Sorry your wishes could not be complied with.

JAMES A. REED.

White House, Washington, D. C.

W. R. Jackson, Secretary.

Senator Reed called personally this morning to present invitation of Maryville Commercial club. Very sorry, but it is impossible to make an addition to the president's schedule or to include any additional stops, owing to the necessity of the president's being in Washington to keep official engagements February 4. The president greatly appreciates the invitation.

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY.

PICKERING MAN AGREES NOT

A. W. Neal Tells Stock Yards Journal not Many Are Feeding on Purchased Corn.

"There was not enough corn grown in my vicinity to justify much feeding," said A. W. Neil of Pickering, Mo. "I never saw as few cattle going on feed as there is this winter. There has been a good deal of corn shipped in, but it has been fed only to hogs that have already been started on feed that had either been left over or raised last season. As a rule, as soon as the corn run out the stock is shipped to market no matter what kind of shape it is in." Mr. Neil cashed a load of stock on Friday's market at satisfactory prices.

C. E. Bishop, George Birch, Lowrey and Sheeley, F. B. Sheley were other Nodaway county men in St. Joseph Saturday.—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

E. WOHLFORD, QUITMAN, DEAD

Heart Failure Strikes Him While in Pasture—Was 69 Years Old.

Emmanuel M. Wohlford, 69 years old, died at his home, near Quitman, last night, after a short illness. Death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Wohlford had taken dinner with his daughter, Mrs. Dan C. Woods, and returned home about 4:20 o'clock. He pumped a tank of water and then went to the pasture for the cow. As he was returning his wife saw him and noticed something was wrong. He waved his hand to her as in distress and she went to his assistance. She managed to get him to the house and then called Dr. Will Hindman. When the physician arrived Mr. Wohlford was dying.

Mr. Wohlford fifty years ago lived at Barnard. From there he moved to Minnesota, and then to Orangeville, Ill., where he lived until two years ago, when he came to Quitman. The golden wedding anniversary of the couple was celebrated last July.

He is survived by his wife and four children, three brothers and a sister. The children are: Mrs. D. C. Woods, Quitman; Homer and Melvin Wohlford, Mrs. Al Bender and two brothers, Chris and Tom Wohlford, all of Orangeville, Ill. The other brothers are: A. N. Wohlford of Freeport, Ill., and Jonathan Wohlford of Barnard.

The body will be taken to Orangeville for burial.

Miss Minnie Smith and Miss Ora Saunders were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wray Lincoln at Pickering from Saturday night until Sunday.

THE JURY DISAGREED

4 HELD GRIFFEY KILLED SELF; 2 FOR ACCIDENTAL VERDICT

FUNERAL TOMORROW AT 1

Gun Was Borrowed From Clyde Bass for Purpose of Killing Troublesome Dog.

The coroner's jury of Charles Griffey, who ended his life shortly before noon Saturday at his home two and a half miles southeast of Clearmont, was unable to agree whether it was suicide or an accident, four members of the jury contending that it was suicide and two members that it was an accident.

So the jury brought in the following verdict: We, the jury decide that Charles Griffey came to his death by the gun shot wound of the head, gun being in his own hands.

The jury was composed of Blaine Rhoades, G. W. Clary, J. G. Maier, F. D. Myers, J. R. Plummer and Ira Hodges.

It seems to be the general opinion that Mr. Griffey took his life and the reason given was that of financial and other difficulties. He is reported to have carried $11,000 life insurance.

The gun used was borrowed by Mr. Griffey from his neighbor, Clyde Bass, several days ago, to be used in killing a dog that had been causing trouble on his farm.

Mr. Griffey was a candidate on the Republican ticket several years ago against the late George W. Demott for the office of county clerk, having been defeated by 1,200 majority. He was well known over the county.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Methodist church, and the Rev. R. E. Watts of the Baptist church will conduct the services. Burial will be in the Clearmont cemetery.

Notice.

Sir Knights:—

You are ordered to be at the Wabash passenger depot at 7:15 a. m., Tuesday to attend funeral of Sir Knight Charles A. Griffey at Clearmont. Return trip about 5 o'clock.

By order of Eminent Commander.

Joseph Allen vs. James W. Herndon Began at Once—Other Circuit Court Cases.

The jury in the case of Real Estate bank vs. E. S. Cook and A. J. Holt brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,727.90 and interest. The verdict was brought at 3:05 o'clock.

While the jury was out the case of 102 river district to use of O. H. Sayler vs. the Southern Surety company was argued before Judge Davis. As soon as the jury returned another jury was empaneled to hear the case of Joseph Allen et al. vs. John W. Herndon et al. on a contract.

The case of the Real Estate bank vs. A. J. Holt and E. S. Cook was up in circuit court today and went to the jury this afternoon about 3 o'clock. It is a suit on a $5,000 note given to the bank by the Western School company of which Holt and Cook were the owners.

Mr. Holt defaulted and presented no defense. Mr. Cook's attorneys are W. H. Crawford of this city and Forrest C. Donnell of St. Louis. Mr. Cook is now located in St. Louis with the Brown Business college. Cook, Cummins & Dawson represented the plaintiff.

In the case of Wolfers Mercantile company vs. Arthur Morris, Ed Wallace garnishee, attachment in a civil action, the court allowed attorney fees of $15 to G. P. Wright, attorney for the garnishee, and after paying the costs to turn over what was left to the plaintiff. The same order was made in the case of W. G. Shinabargar vs. Arthur Morris, Ed Wallace, garnishee.

Al Kysar vs. Wayne Ingram, appeal from J. P. court by defendant, suit compromised and dismissed at defendant's costs.

FULTON VOTES TOMORROW

Campaign for Local Option Has Been Fiercely Fought by Both Sides.

Every day last week meetings have been held by the Fulton women's local option organization and both wet and dry leagues among the men, in preparation for the local option election that is to be held in that city tomorrow, according to the Fulton Gazette. Although the speech making campaign will end tonight, the activities of both wet and dry leaders will continue until the polls close tomorrow evening.

Petitions that have been circulated among the women of Fulton during the last week, asking the adoption of local option in this city, contain the names of nearly one thousand signers, and by the last of this week it is probable that many more than that number of signatures will have been added.

Ambassador Bernstorf has received final instructions from Berlin in regard to the sinking of the Lusitania. It will be presented to the state department today, and it is believed that the case nears final settlement.

The house and senate convened at noon. The house continued its debate upon road construction, and the senate committee on military affairs resumed its hearings on preparedness.

A SUCCESSFUL STRUGGLE.

"Happiness."

-Blind, deaf and dumb.

Surely if there is any person in the world who can tell us how those two conditions can exist within the same individual, everyone must long to see and hear that person.

It will be the wonderful privilege of Maryville to hear such a person next Thursday night, when Miss Helen Keller comes. She has never seen the beauty of a sunset, the charm of a rose bush, the glory of nature reproduced in art; she has never heard the glory of a thrush in spring time, the sweetness of a human voice, or the majesty of pipe organ tones.

It is only under the marvelous tutelage of Mrs. Anne S. Macy that Miss Keller has won the ability to express herself and in some measure to break her dumbness. Yet this kind of person presumes to take as the subject of her lecture "Happiness."

When we pause to consider that this city can see for the half of one dollar the woman who has won the admiration of the whole world by her struggle out from blankness to knowledge and to listen to the teacher who did so much to make that struggle successful, doesn't it seem unbelievable that any auditorium of 1,300 capacity will accommodate the people who will want to be present?

Mrs. Fuller Grippe has been heard from. She dropped into the office the other day to remark that from the way we follow "Men First" at every place but a fire or a shipwreck, Atlas ought to have been a woman.

We might find a more enthusiastic reception to this pay-up week idea if everyone was owed instead of owing.

That preparedness program would keep a better popularity if a copyright were secured on the name so we would not be tired with seeing it in every place from ads to hymns.

Surely the blindest person is the one who cannot see that sending money out of Maryville for things which can be purchased here hurts the sender more than he may save in price.

No, G. O. P. reader, it is a Moose lodge not a Bull Moose organization which is being worked up in Maryville.

CORN KNIVES
WELL, HENRY, I WANT A NEW CORN PLANTER, A COUPLE A PLOWS, DISC HARROW MANURE SPREADER, SOME TOOLS — AND HERE'S THE CASH TO PAY FOR 'EM!

From a cartoon by Herbert Johnson

Will it come to this?

If you paid the implement dealer cash with order, he'd be "stumped total deaf." But the fact is—

If you'll pay cash, then the dealer can pay cash, and the manufacturer can pay off $100,000,000 he owes on your account—and they can supply you with implements cheaper than they otherwise could.

The whole tangle is explained in the extraordinary series called A Game and a Gamble, appearing every other week in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

This series of articles is a striking indication of the thought The Country Gentleman is giving to labor-saving and money-saving devices for the farm. In addition to this series, a regular department, appearing frequently, is devoted to this very subject. It contains the ideas and experiences of farmers and farm experts in making power replace muscle. It is called

POWER ON THE FARM

And there are a dozen or more other regular departments—about live stock, chickens, crops, dairying, the home, etc., beside the special articles by special writers each week.

SCIENCE—INVENTION.

Cleaning Automobile Lamps.

Much of the efficiency of the electric or parabola lamp depends upon the cleanliness of the reflectors, says the Automobile Dealer and Repairer. As a rule, the reflectors are silver plated and highly polished. They require different treatment from the gas headlights, as the latter are of glass and are not as easily scratched. If the electric headlight becomes dirty do not wipe it, but employ a stream of cold water to displace the dust or dirt and permit the surface to dry by the air.

If the reflectors become dull after continued service they can be partially restored by using a soft chamois, with red rouge or crocus. This material should be used sparingly, and the chamois must be soft as well as free from wrinkles. Place a wad of cotton about the size of an egg within the chamois. This will afford a smooth surface for wiping.

When properly used crocus will not scratch the silver plate. Moisten the chamois with alcohol, then apply the crocus to the chamois. Press very lightly and wipe with a rotary motion.

Garage Ventilation.

As we understand it—and surely there is no possibility of too clear information upon the subject—there are two kinds of dangerous gases incident to running the automobile, carbon dioxide and carbon monoxide, says the Automobile Dealer and Repairer. Carbon dioxide is a nonsupporter of life, and, although not in the strict sense a poisonous gas, to remain in an atmosphere of it for any length of time would be likely to prove fatal. Thus it is that to stay in the vicinity of the exhaust even for a little while and where it cannot be dissipated quickly by the air, as it is a very heavy gas, causes headache or faintness. Carbon monoxide, it appears, is the product of incomplete combustion and is far more fatal in its effects.

The lesson is easy and simple. It is that an engine should not be run more than a few minutes in a closed garage.

Top For Automobile Truck.

Mechanics. It will be noticed that the top differs from the ordinary single seat top in that it projects to the rear as well as to the front, keeping the driver's back shaded without the use of a curtain, which hinders the view when glancing backward.

Alaska's Mineral Output.

The Alaska mining industry as a whole was more prosperous in 1915 than in any previous year. This is indicated by the value of the total mineral output, which is estimated to have been $32,000,000, compared with $19,064,963 for 1914. The highest value for any previous year was in 1906, when Alaska produced $23,378,428 worth of minerals, but this was at a time when the bonanza placers of Fairbanks and Nome were yielding their greatest returns, says a United States geological survey bulletin. The high value of the mineral output in 1915 was due in large measure to the extraordinary amount of copper that was mined. Preliminary estimates indicate this to be 83,850,000 pounds, valued at $14,400,000.

Cheaper Trucks After the War.

As the great war has accelerated the demand for motortrucks in peaceful pursuits, so likewise it has hastened the growth of mechanical haulage and has enabled manufacturers to reduce prices as a consequence of tremendously increased production. True, a study of comparative prices of first quality motortrucks will not reveal any noteworthy reductions, but immediately the war stops, and even before, there must come a conspicuous reduction in present prices. Manufacturers will make the reduction both from necessity and from choice.—Engineering Magazine.

Water Connections.

New water connections are rarely tight for any length of time when first fitted. Watch them for the first few hundred miles. This applies especially to a new car. If there is leakage tighten just sufficiently and only sufficiently to stop it. If you tighten excessively at first you simply maul the rubber and do not ultimately prevent leakage. Therefore tighten little by little as required.

About Spark Plugs.

The commencement of ignition should be as near the center of the mass of vapor in the combustion chamber as possible. To secure this use as long spark plugs as possible without coming in contact with the top of the piston.—Automobile Dealer.

Advantages of a Compass.

Fulton Mothers Now Treat Children's Colds Externally

They Find Vap-O-Rub Better Than Internal Medicines for Croup and Cold Troubles.

Mrs. J. S. Pugh, 510 Market St., and Mrs. Mary Bolton, 105 Ravine St., both of Fulton, Mo., have found, in common with many other Missouri mothers, that it is no longer necessary to dose children with internal medicines for cold troubles. In the South Vick's Vap-O-Rub is the standard remedy for these troubles, but it was only last winter that it was introduced here. Vap-O-Rub was discovered by a North Carolina druggist. He found how to combine Menthol and Camphor with the volatile oils of Thyme, Eucalyptus, Cubebs and Juniper, in salve form, so that when applied to the body, the ingredients are vaporized by the body heat.

These vapors are inhaled with each breath, through the air passages, to the lungs, carrying the medication direct to the affected parts, and, in addition, Vick's is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness. This double action makes Vap-O-Rub really a remarkable remedy for many forms of inflammations. Either inflammations of the air passages, such as head colds, catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep chest colds, or inflammations of the skin tissues, such as burns, bruises, stings, piles, itchings and muscular soreness. It is particularly recommended for small children, as it can be used freely, with perfect safety, on the youngest member of the family.

But let these Missouri mothers speak for themselves. Mrs. Bolton writes—"I have used Vap-O-Rub on baby for bad colds. Results were excellent. I find it better than any internal medicine I ever used."

Mrs. Pugh's experience is—"I tried your Vap-O-Rub on three of my children for bronchitis. They would cough so hard at night I could not sleep, so would get up and rub their throats and chests with Vap-O-Rub and they seldom coughed any more that night, and after I had kept it up for several nights they stopped coughing. I believe it is better than taking so much medicine internally." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00. At all druggists.

The cold wave that recently formed in Alaska and attained strength in central Canada, has turned east over the northern states and will not reach this locality, as had been anticipated, so decided Weather Forecaster Belden of St. Joseph.

Mr. Belden said the cold wave, preceded by unsettled weather, was expected to follow the Missouri valley, but its course has been changed and no immediate change in temperature will take place in this section.

A SUCCESSFUL STRUGGLE.

"Happiness."

"Blind, deaf and dumb.

Surely if there is any person in the world who can tell us how those two conditions can exist within the same individual, everyone must long to see and hear that person.

It will be the wonderful privilege of Maryville to hear such a person next Thursday night, when Miss Helen Keller comes. She has never seen the beauty of a sunset, the charm of a rose bush, the glory of nature reproduced in art; she has never heard the glory of a thrush in spring time, the sweetness of a human voice, or the majesty of pipe organ tones.

It is only under the marvelous tutelage of Mrs. Anne S. Macy that Miss Keller has won the ability to express herself and in some measure to break her dumbness. Yet this kind of person presumes to take as the subject of her lecture "Happiness."

When we pause to consider that this city can see for the half of one dollar the woman who has won the admiration of the whole world by her struggle out from blankness to knowledge and to listen to the teacher who did so much to make that struggle successful, doesn't it seem unbelievable that any auditorium of 1,300 capacity will accommodate the people who will want to be present?

Mrs. Fuller Grippe has been heard from. She dropped into the office the other day to remark that from the way we follow "Men First" at every place but a fire or a shipwreck, Atlas ought to have been a woman.

We might find a more enthusiastic reception to this pay-up week idea if everyone was owed instead of owing.

That preparedness program would keep a better popularity if a copyright were secured on the name so we would not be tired with seeing it in every place from ads to hymns.

Surely the blindest person is the one who cannot see that sending money out of Maryville for things which can be purchased here hurts the sender more than he may save in price.

No, G. O. P. reader, it is a Moose lodge not a Bull Moose organization which is being worked up in Maryville.

From a cartoon by Herbert Johnson

Will it come to this?

If you paid the implement dealer cash with order, he'd be "stumped total deaf." But the fact is—

If you'll pay cash, then the dealer can pay cash, and the manufacturer can pay off $100,000,000 he owes on your account—and they can supply you with implements cheaper than they otherwise could.

The whole tangle is explained in the extraordinary series called A Game and a Gamble, appearing every other week in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

This series of articles is a striking indication of the thought The Country Gentleman is giving to labor-saving and money-saving devices for the farm. In addition to this series, a regular department, appearing frequently, is devoted to this very subject. It contains the ideas and experiences of farmers and farm experts in making power replace muscle. It is called

POWER ON THE FARM

And there are a dozen or more other regular departments —about live stock, chickens, crops, dairying, the home, etc., beside the special articles by special writers each week.

Cleaning Automobile Lamps.

Much of the efficiency of the electric or parabola lamp depends upon the cleanliness of the reflectors, says the Automobile Dealer and Repairer. As a rule, the reflectors are silver plated and highly polished. They require different treatment from the gas headlights, as the latter are of glass and are not as easily scratched. If the electric headlight becomes dirty do not wipe it, but employ a stream of cold water to displace the dust or dirt and permit the surface to dry by the air.

If the reflectors become dull after continued service they can be partially restored by using a soft chamois, with red rouge or crocus. This material should be used sparingly, and the chamois must be soft as well as free from wrinkles. Place a wad of cotton about the size of an egg within the chamois. This will afford a smooth surface for wiping.

When properly used crocus will not scratch the silver plate. Moisten the chamois with alcohol, then apply the crocus to the chamois. Press very lightly and wipe with a rotary motion.

Garage Ventilation.

As we understand it—and surely there is no possibility of too clear information upon the subject—there are two kinds of dangerous gases incident to running the automobile, carbon dioxide and carbon monoxide, says the Automobile Dealer and Repairer. Carbon dioxide is a nonsupporter of life, and, although not in the strict sense a poisonous gas, to remain in an atmosphere of it for any length of time would be likely to prove fatal. Thus it is that to stay in the vicinity of the exhaust even for a little while and where it cannot be dissipated quickly by the air, as it is a very heavy gas, causes headache or faintness. Carbon monoxide, it appears, is the product of incomplete combustion and is far more fatal in its effects.

The lesson is easy and simple. It is that an engine should not be run more than a few minutes in a closed garage.

Top For Automobile Truck.

Mechanics. It will be noticed that the top differs from the ordinary single seat top in that it projects to the rear as well as to the front, keeping the driver's back shaded without the use of a curtain, which hinders the view when glancing backward.

Alaska's Mineral Output.

The Alaska mining industry as a whole was more prosperous in 1915 than in any previous year. This is indicated by the value of the total mineral output, which is estimated to have been $32,000,000, compared with $19,064,963 for 1914. The highest value for any previous year was in 1906, when Alaska produced $23,378,428 worth of minerals, but this was at a time when the bonanza placers of Fairbanks and Nome were yielding their greatest returns, says a United States geological survey bulletin. The high value of the mineral output in 1915 was due in large measure to the extraordinary amount of copper that was mined. Preliminary estimates indicate this to be 83,850,000 pounds, valued at $14,400,000.

Cheaper Trucks After the War.

As the great war has accelerated the demand for motortrucks in peaceful pursuits, so likewise it has hastened the growth of mechanical haulage and has enabled manufacturers to reduce prices as a consequence of tremendously increased production. True, a study of comparative prices of first quality motortrucks will not reveal any noteworthy reductions, but immediately the war stops, and even before, there must come a conspicuous reduction in present prices. Manufacturers will make the reduction both from necessity and from choice.—Engineering Magazine.

Water Connections.

New water connections are rarely tight for any length of time when first fitted. Watch them for the first few hundred miles. This applies especially to a new car. If there is leakage tighten just sufficiently and only sufficiently to stop it. If you tighten excessively at first you simply maul the rubber and do not ultimately prevent leakage. Therefore tighten little by little as required.

About Spark Plugs.

The commencement of ignition should be as near the center of the mass of vapor in the combustion chamber as possible. To secure this use as long spark plugs as possible without coming in contact with the top of the piston.—Automobile Dealer.

Fulton Mothers Now Treat Children's Colds Externally

They Find Vap-O-Rub Better Than Internal Medicines for Croup and Cold Troubles.

Mrs. J. S. Pugh, 510 Market St., and Mrs. Mary Bolton, 105 Ravine St., both of Fulton, Mo., have found, in common with many other Missouri mothers, that it is no longer necessary to dose children with internal medicines for cold troubles. In the South Vick's Vap-O-Rub is the standard remedy for these troubles, but it was only last winter that it was introduced here. Vap-O-Rub was discovered by a North Carolina druggist. He found how to combine Menthol and Camphor with the volatile oils of Thyme, Eucalyptus, Cubebs and Juniper, in salve form, so that when applied to the body, the ingredients are vaporized by the body heat.

These vapors are inhaled with each breath, through the air passages, to the lungs, carrying the medication direct to the affected parts, and, in addition, Vick's is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness. This double action makes Vap-O-Rub really a remarkable remedy for many forms of inflammations. Either inflammations of the air passages, such as head colds, catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep chest colds, or inflammations of the skin tissues, such as burns, bruises, stings, piles, itchings and muscular soreness. It is particularly recommended for small children, as it can be used freely, with perfect safety, on the youngest member of the family.

But let these Missouri mothers speak for themselves. Mrs. Bolton writes—"I have used Vap-O-Rub on baby for bad colds. Results were excellent. I find it better than any internal medicine I ever used."

Mrs. Pugh's experience is—"I tried your Vap-O-Rub on three of my children for bronchitis. They would cough so hard at night I could not sleep, so would get up and rub their throats and chests with Vap-O-Rub and they seldom coughed any more that night, and after I had kept it up for several nights they stopped coughing. I believe it is better than taking so much medicine internally." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00. At all druggists.

The cold wave that recently formed in Alaska and attained strength in central Canada, has turned east over the northern states and will not reach this locality, as had been anticipated, so decided Weather Forecaster Belden of St. Joseph.

Mr. Belden said the cold wave, preceded by unsettled weather, was expected to follow the Missouri valley, but its course has been changed and no immediate change in temperature will take place in this section.

MARY PICKFORD, PARTNER

MOVING PICTURE STAR TO SHARE PROFITS OF FAMOUS PLAYERS

America's Most Popular Girl Was Getting $2,000 a Week and Refused $6,000.

All doubt concerning the future affiliations of Mary Pickford has been dispelled. This foremost star of filmdom has rejected the greatest offers that have ever been tendered to any actress in the history of the stage or the screen, deciding to remain with the Famous Players Film Company, the first feature organization with which she was indentified. All of her pictures will continue to be realeased through the Paramount Pictures Corporation, whose appeal to the best class of motion picture patrons has been instrumental in increasing her unparalleled reputation and popularity.

The new agreement into which Miss Pickford has entered with Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players Film Company, includes the formation of the Famous Players-Mary Pickford Company for the making of feature productions in which Miss Pickford is to be starred, and in which the star retains a half interest

Ever since Miss Pickford became a Famous Player star, and particularly since her pictures were shown exclusively on the Paramount Program, the end of each year has been the occasion for a ceaseless chain of rumors and doubts concerning the renewal of her contract with the producers. She is always said to be about to join some other company at a fabulous salary. The formation of the new organization puts a permanent end to all such rumors, as Miss Pickford is now a member of the company and is interested in the pictures themselves instead of being a salaried star.

One year ago at the expiration of her contract with the Famous Players, Miss Pickford was rumored to be on the point of signing contracts with three other concerns. When her new arrangement with the Famous Players was finally announced and it was learned that she would receive $104,000 a year, the motion picture industry gasped, and those who were not in a position to know the facts remained skeptical.

This year the film world was stirred by the news that Miss Pickford had received an offer of $6,000 per week in recognition of her position as the greatest motion picture star. In the face of these rumors which have since been authenticated, the decision of Miss Pickford has great interest to all movie enthusiasts.

3 AT LAST SERVICE

MAKING TOTAL OF SEVENTY-THREE CONVERTS IN MEETINGS.

PASTOR TO REST WEEK

Rev. Hale is Visiting Parents in Shelbina—Dr. Smoot Goes to His Home in DeSoto.

Three professions of faith were made last night in the last service of the First Baptist revival, making a total of seventy-three for the meetings.

A packed house listened to Dr. H. A. Smoot talk upon the liquor traffic as opposed to all that is worth while in our civilization.

Rev. Smoot said in part:

"The liquor traffic is against everything that tends toward the good, the church, righteousness, morality, every good movement and deed to the best interest of our community, therefore, every one of us should be out on the side of right against the saloon, and we should be busy each hour from now until election day comes. What we want to do this election is to roll the votes up to such a majority that the question will never be raised again.

"Nor drunkards shall inherit the kingdom of God." We are admonished to stand against this evil traffic. Every one of us must take sides. We must get on one side or the other. When a fellow is indifferent, you may be sure he is on the wrong side. He is being used as a tool with the other side. This is not a time for the spirit of indifference. We must be on the right side and stay with it until the victory is won.

"The business of the church is to promote Christianity. The business of the liquor traffic is against Christianity. One is for evil, the other for good. It has been said that Christianity could easily destroy the traffic, if it would, and the traffic would destroy Christianity, if it could. Now that's true. The emblem of our work, as men and women who honor God is the sword and the trowel. With the sword we are to build up evil, and with the trowel we are to build up for the glory of our Lord.

"We ought to treat the liquor traffic in the U. S. as we treat bull fights, white slavery, polygamy and other things that we want taken from our midst, and so ought to be our attitude against the liquor traffic. The arguments of the liquor fellows may be summed up under one word, and that word is 'selfishness.' Every act of the liquor fellows is selfish. There are only three of them that amount to anything and they are these; just three arguments: First, the almighty dollar that the fellows can put down in their pockets. Second, the great cry of revenue. Third, personal liberty. Thomas Jefferson has said that 'personal liberty was all right up to the point where it interfered with somebody's else liberty and at that point should be cut off.' If you have come to the point where your personal liberty interferes with some one else's liberty, then it ceases to be liberty and becomes license and should be cut off.

"The whisky fellows do not care a rap about the physical, moral and spiritual condition of the people. The liquor traffic tends to drag men down and defeat the purpose God had in the creation of man. He created man to stand erect, in His own image. Liquor sends a man stumbling, reeling, by the way of a drunkard's grave down to a devil's hell. It ought not be tolerated by the people because of the fact alone of the injury to a man's body. It is an enemy to the home. It puts out the hearth fire, empties the pantry, clothes the wife in rags, brings helpless little children down to suffering and shame. Nobody wants a drunkard for a neighbor. People are always trying to keep the saloons out of the residence districts of our towns and cities. That statement: 'If you will let liquor alone, it will let you alone' isn't true.

"If you believe it is, go talk with the paupers in the grave yards; talk with the helpless women and children who let liquor alone, but liquor didn't let them alone. It isn't the truth.

"There isn't one good thing that can be said of the saloon business in this country. There isn't one good item that can be brought forth in favor of this evil traffic in our midst. Thousands of homes are broken up annually by this traffic. One hundred thousand men from this land of ours go reeling, staggering down to a drunkard's grave every year, and that thing is tolerated largely by the Christian voters in our U. S.

"Prosperity follows in the wake as we drive out this evil from our land. If you spend $800 for merchandise a year, $148 of this goes to help the laboring class. If you spend $800 for liquor a year, less than $10 of this helps the laboring class. It is in the power of any community to enforce its laws. It is the business of Maryville to put the saloons out and then see to it that the blind tiger doesn't get in. In the last few years something like between two million dollars or a little more has been spent by the people of the U. S. for drink, and the large per cent of this has been spent by the poor people who can't afford it. It is almost impossible to regulate the liquor traffic where we have saloons. It can't be done. You might as well try to regulate Niagara Falls with a squirt gun.

"Who is it that makes the drunkard? The saloon. What makes the saloon? The law. What makes the law? The legislature. And who makes the legislature? The voters. Look at our commercial industries. Our great cotton mills. What is the manufactured product. Cotton goods. What is the raw material? Cotton. Is the manufactured product worth more than the raw material? Oh, yes, you say. What is the raw material for the saloon? Boys and girls. What is the manufactured product? A drunkard or a prostitute. Is the manufactured product worth more than the raw material? Oh, no, a thousand times no. Every man who is in favor of this saloon business ought to be willing to give a boy to be a drunkard or a girl to be a prostitute, for that is what it finally leads to, and why encourage a thing and hope for a thing that will help somebody else's boy to be a drunkard or their girl a prostitute when you wouldn't be willing to give your own to be one."

Cleans Leather.

A reader of the Christian Science Monitor writes: "I took my handbag to a lot of leather stores, where they all told me it could not be cleaned, but I learned from a friend that a tablespoonful of oxalic acid dissolved in a quart of cold water cleans cowhide, pigskin and sole leather very satisfactorily."

Look About You.

It is wonderful how much one can learn by cultivating the habit of observation. As you walk in the street or ride in the car you pick up a surprising amount of information. Our fellow beings are intensely interesting, and they are constantly teaching us something or other. Do not let your knowledge stagnate. Put it to some practical use.

This house is 300 years old and consists of two rooms, one above the other, each of which is just two yards square. "CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

With the immediate problem that confronts us the speaker stressed the first point, indicating first the reason of religion and morals, next that of education, and under this point he took occasion to pay his respects to the anti-suffrage propaganda which is so largely underwritten by the brewery interests of the country. Attention was called to the fact that in Arizona the women vote, and that it went dry. In Washington, Oregon and Colorado they also vote and they went dry, and the observation quoted that while some heed that women do not know much it could be proved absolutely that they knew enough to come in out of the wet.

The main reason stressed was business which now stands shoulder to shoulder with morality and education as the allies that would finally prove to be a victorious triumvirate.

The Jewish governor of Idaho, where Mr. Case came from, this fall was quoted as to the way he met the arguments of the timid business men of certain sections of that and its neighboring state, Oregon. The governor's slogan is "Busting Booze Boosts Business," and he had the proofs in his own bank account. He is a clothing merchant with a string of stores in western Idaho and eastern Oregon.

The address closed with attention being called to the slogan and shield of Maryville, "Maryville Has It"—that this county and all northwest Missouri translated that "it" as the saloon, and that they saw "it" as a stain on our shield and a blot on our clivic escutcheon. Let us so work and so vote that for a while after February 3 we shall have as our slogan "Maryville Hasn't it"—let us see the saloon as the real "ill" in Maryville, and let our watchword be to "take the 'ill' from Maryville."

Our Responsibility to God.

"Fulfilling God's Expectations" was the subject of the Rev. R. C. Holliday at the Buchanan Street Methodist church. He said in part:

"As the voters of the city of Maryville come to decide on February 3rd the fate of the saloons that are with us today, there are many eyes on us. Many are expecting us to do our duty like men and drive from our midst this greedy monster with its insatiable appetite for money and boys.

"Broken hearted wives are watching us with awful anxiety, hoping that we will do the right.

"Anxious mothers and fathers are pleading for us to smite the nefarious traffic. Nodaway county expects us to vote right, that the county may be dry. The folks of this Normal district are demanding that they have a safe, clean city to which to send their boys and girls for their schooling.

"Most important of all, however, is the fact that God is expecting us to 'quit ourselves like men, and be strong.' God expects every man to vote to hasten the coming of His kingdom, as well as to pray for its coming.

"My Message to the men of this congregation is that God expects us to be Christians and do His will at the ballot box on February 3. And, best of all, I believe you will not disappoint His confidence in you, but that you will joyfully fulfill His expectations.

"Foes and Allies," by Cox.

"Before any battle is waged, we need to take account of the forces for and against. We need to know our own strength and resources, and also the craft and power of the foe," said the Rev. G. S. Cox at the First Methodist church.

It is true of the present campaign. (1) The allies of forces against saloons are the Word of God. In spite of a few misconstrued passages that seem to give a hint at the use of intoxicants 2,000 years ago there can be left no doubt, as the continued warning of the woe and ruin wrought in human life that is given throughout the scriptures.

(2) The world's greatest student of human nature, William Shakespeare, says: "If thou hast no other name, we will call the Devil."

(3) The churches of America, Catholic and Protestant, are practically a unit in this fight.

(4) The schools and school men are demanding the removal of this great hindrance to the physical, mental and moral welfare of the youth of land.

(5) Philanthropists, social workers, are seeing as never before that saloon is the cause directly and indirectly of from 75 to 90 per cent of insanity, crime, poverty, suicide, etc.

(6) Big business has brought in its overwhelming protest against the whole business by excluding saloon from the environs of shop and from pay roll any who frequent the same.

(7) Labor has awakened to the solemn fact that this monster is the source of its greatest sorry, and its leaders are crying out against this infernal institution.

(8) Statesmen are coming to our rescue and may echo William Gladstone's mighty words when he said the liquor traffic has caused more grief than the three great human hindrances, war, pestilence and famine."

(9) The war has taught the world its greatest one lesson in temperance and the leading man of Russia says: "Russia is better off with war and without vodka than with her saloons and without war."

The foes are: (1) The saloon and its forces with all the tricks, falsehoods, deceit and daring of the devil himself; (2) the brewers who pay the bills whenever necessary and however much is needed; (3) wet voters, honest or dishonest, selfish or unselfish; (4) good men afraid to take a stand or those who accidentally forget to vote.

Many a saloon fight has been lost because men otherwise good refused to throw their influence on the side of righteousness and carelessly did not vote. They are foes and dangerous ones.

Iron In the Ocean.

A piece of iron will sink to the bottom no matter how deep the water is, because water is only slightly compressible. If water were highly compressible, as air is, the water at a great depth would be much denser and therefore heavier, and an object would sink until it reached a point at which its weight would be less than that of the water which it displaced, and there it would float, as clouds float in the atmosphere. But a cubic foot of iron weighs more than a cubic foot of water at a depth of two miles, just as it does at the surface, and therefore continues sinking until it reaches the bottom.—Christian Herald.

The Point.

The "point" is a place which a great many people claim to see, but very few care to get to. They will travel all around it, but to go right through to it, to make an attempt to arrive at it, is quite beyond them.

The singular thing about this is that everybody is urging them on to do it.

"If you will only get to the point," says the world, "it will be an immense help." Then all the psychologists, sociologists, theologians, orators and humorists declare they are going to—immediately.

The point laughs at them all.

A Cautious Judge.

"Safety First" seems to be the motto of some of the judges in the West Indies. When an alien prisoner is brought before them they consider the possibility of a gunboat from the culprit's native land popping in to make trouble.

It is told that a Haiti magistrate, on examining a prisoner, found that he was from Switzerland.

"Switzerland," he mused. "Switzerland has no seacoast, has it?"

"No seacoast, your honor," said the interpreter.

"And no navy?"

"No navy, your honor."

"Very well, then," said the judge, "I'll give him a year at hard labor."—Boston Transcript.

A Social Warning.

"What are you going to do with all the money you expect to make?" asked Miss Cayenne.

"I'm going to have a fine house and entertain sumptuously," replied the price booster.

"Yes, but in the meantime you are rendering yourself so unpopular that no really nice people will come to your parties."—Washington Star.

Earliest Theater.

What was probably one of the earliest theaters built was the theater of Dionysius, which was begun five centuries before Christ. The seating capacity of this remarkable building is said to have been 30,000, nearly four times that of our largest amusement palace. The theater of Dionysius was erected when Greek art and literature were in their prime. Here were presented to appreciative spectators the wonderful works of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides.
